Grace Gormley

650-804-4305
gracegormley@gmail.com
linkedin.com/in/grace-gormley

PERSONAL STATEMENT: I strive to combine data science skills with people-centered reporting to hold those in power accountable and tell important stories. Local and investigative journalism driven by data are highly important to me.

EDUCATION

Northwestern University, Medill School of Journalism — Evanston, IL
SEPTEMBER 2024 - PRESENT

*BS, Majors in Journalism and Data Science - 3.97/4.0 GPA

- Dean's List 6 out of 6 quarters
- Peer Adviser - Lead transition into Northwestern for new students, set campus culture, provide resources and mentorship
- Knight Lab Research - Working with a team on a prototype digital exhibit for millions of pages of government environmental surveys (distant reading, data visualization, human-computer interaction and accessible storytelling)
- Campus Tour Guide - share engaging information about Northwestern with prospective students and their families
- Volunteer Camp Kesem Counselor - provide support for children faced with a parent's cancer
- Medill Representative - Selected by advisers to represent Medill at the 2025 & 2026 JEA/NSPA High School Conference
- Member - Northwestern University Club Water Polo, Club Sailing (served as sailing 2025 website chair)

Palo Alto High School — Palo Alto, CA
AUGUST 2020 - MAY 2024

- 4.0/4.0 GPA (4.4 weighted), 1540 SAT, National Merit Scholarship Winner
- Editor in Chief - Viking Sports Magazine
  - Journalism Awards: Casey Nichols Service Above Self Award (JEA Norcal, 2024), National 1st Place Nonfiction Article (Columbia Gold Circle), 3rd Place National Sports Story (National Federation of Press Women), 2nd Place CA Feature Story (CA Press Women), Excellence Award: Feature Writing (National High School Journalism Convention)
- Team Captain, Varsity Swimming & Club President, Best Buddies

EXPERIENCE

Embarcadero Media Foundation — San Francisco Bay Area, CA
JUNE 2025 - PRESENT

Current Freelancer, former Editorial Intern

- Asked by editor to stay on post-internship as a paid freelance writer
- Work for some of San Francisco Bay Area's strongest local publications, including the Palo Alto Weekly, the Mountain View Voice, the Almanac and more
- Publishing local stories: profiling important figures, covering events, dealing with complex politics and infrastructure. All published on a fast turnaround with high-quality, person-centered reporting
- Lent copy edit support for the Palo Alto Weekly's print editions and provided briefs for dozens of local events
- Took initiative to shoot high-quality photos while reporting and to pitch and write stories beyond what was assigned

Northwestern School of Education and Social Policy — Evanston, IL
JUNE 2024 - PRESENT

Student Newswriter for the Alumni Magazine and Website News Section

- Write research initiative articles, profiles of students and faculty, and stories on community events
- Assist with administrative tasks behind the scenes

Pathwise (formerly DreamCatchers) — Palo Alto, CA
JUNE 2024 - SEPTEMBER 2025

Classroom Director & Mentor

- Lead a classroom of a dozen underserved middle school students, helping bridge educational gaps, provide mentorship, education and fun during after school and summer programming

Stand Up, Speak Out Journalism Camp — Palo Alto, CA
NOVEMBER 2022 - SEPTEMBER 2023

Founder and Director

- Created a free journalism camp with an emphasis on activism in collaboration with Pathwise (then DreamCatchers) for 70+ underserved middle schoolers, each writing an article on a passion which was printed in a final magazine for each to keep
- Developed a feeder program into Palo Alto High School's journalism program to increase representation
- Recruited a leader who sustained it after my involvement

SKILLS

- Data analysis & modeling, Python and SQL, Adobe Creative Suite
- Fluent in Spanish
- Fan of reading, hiking, "Great British Bake Off," and doing art in my sketchbook